This handbook is a guide to the policies, procedures and requirements of the School of Art. For additional information or clarification, students should consult with faculty and staff of the School of Art. A new edition of this handbook is updated every year and available online.

While this handbook is specific to your academic experience in the Master of Fine Arts Program, there are several other resources and offices graduate students are encouraged to consult during their tenure at Carnegie Mellon University. Information about the student handbook (The Word), the Office of the Assistant Vice Provost for Graduate Education, the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs and others can be found at Carnegie Mellon University Graduate Education.

PROGRAM MISSION

The MFA in the School of Art at Carnegie Mellon University is a three-year program designed to provide students with a challenging and supportive context to expand and develop their work and thinking as artists. The MFA Program is committed to the advancement of contemporary art and applies a dialectical approach toward critique, academic study, research, and practice, with the aim of providing a rigorous intellectual and cultural platform for its cohort of students and faculty. The Program views art making as a social, critical, and intellectual pursuit and supports progressive forms of expression. We expect students to remain porous to broader cultural, political, aesthetic, material, and formal issues in contemporary art, as well as to current discourses across philosophical and historical fields of study. The MFA Program employs a multidisciplinary structure and experimental approach in order to encourage students to expand their notion of what it means to be an artist and to make art within our contemporary condition.
UNIVERSITY POLICIES & EXPECTATIONS

It is the responsibility of each member of the Carnegie Mellon community to be familiar with university policies and guidelines. In addition to this departmental graduate student handbook, the following resources are available to assist you in understanding community expectations:

Academic Integrity Website: https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/academic-integrity.html

University Policies Website: www.cmu.edu/policies/

Graduate Education Website: http://www.cmu.edu/graduate/policies/index.html

STATEMENT OF ASSURANCE

Carnegie Mellon University does not discriminate in admission, employment, or administration of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap or disability, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, ancestry, belief, veteran status, or genetic information. Furthermore, Carnegie Mellon University does not discriminate and is required not to discriminate in violation of federal, state, or local laws or executive orders.

Inquiries concerning the application of and compliance with this statement should be directed to the Vice President for Campus Affairs, 412-268-2056.

The Statement of Assurance can also be found online at: https://www.cmu.edu/policies/administrative-and-governance/statement-of-assurance.html
THE CARNEGIE MELLON CODE
Students at Carnegie Mellon, because they are members of an academic community dedicated to the achievement of excellence, are expected to meet the highest standards of personal, ethical and moral conduct possible.

These standards require personal integrity, a commitment to honesty without compromise, as well as truth without equivocation and a willingness to place the good of the community above the good of the self. Obligations once undertaken must be met, commitments kept.

As members of the Carnegie Mellon community, individuals are expected to uphold the standards of the community in addition to holding others accountable for said standards. It is rare that the life of a student in an academic community can be so private that it will not affect the community as a whole or that the above standards do not apply.

The discovery, advancement and communication of knowledge are not possible without a commitment to these standards. Creativity cannot exist without acknowledgment of the creativity of others. New knowledge cannot be developed without credit for prior knowledge. Without the ability to trust that these principles will be observed, an academic community cannot exist.

The commitment of its faculty, staff and students to these standards contributes to the high respect in which the Carnegie Mellon degree is held. Students must not destroy that respect by their failure to meet these standards. Students who cannot meet them should voluntarily withdraw from the university. The Carnegie Mellon Code can also be found online in student affairs policy guide, available here: https://www.cmu.edu/student-affairs/theword/.
RIGHTS & COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATIONS

ASSISTANCE FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES
The Office of Disability Resources at Carnegie Mellon University has a continued mission to provide physical and programmatic campus access to all events and information within the Carnegie Mellon community. We work to ensure that qualified individuals receive reasonable accommodations as guaranteed by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Students who would like to receive accommodations must submit a Voluntary Disclosure of Disability Form [pdf] to access@andrew.cmu.edu to begin the interactive accommodation process. For more information please visit their website. Students with disabilities are encouraged to self-identify with Equal Opportunity Services by contacting Catherine Getchell, 412-268-6121, getchell@cmu.edu to access the services available at the university and initiate a request for accommodations.

POLICY AGAINST SEXUAL HARASSMENT & SEXUAL ASSAULT
The University prohibits sex-based discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating/ domestic violence and stalking. The University also prohibits retaliation against individuals who bring forward such concerns or allegations in good faith. The policy can be viewed in its entirety at: https://www.cmu.edu/policies/administrative-and-governance/sexual-harassment-and-sexual-assault.html.

If you have been impacted by any of these issues, you are encouraged to make contact with any of the following resources:

- Office of Title IX Initiatives, https://www.cmu.edu/title-ix/, 412-268-7125, tix@cmu.edu
- University Police, 412-268-2323
- University Health Services, 412-268-2157
- Counseling & Psychological Services, 412-268-2922

Additional resources and information can be found at: https://www.cmu.edu/title-ix/resources-and-information/index.html

MATERNITY ACCOMMODATION PROTOCOL
Students whose anticipated delivery date is during the course of the semester may consider taking time away from their coursework and/or research responsibilities. All female students who give birth to a child while engaged in coursework or research are eligible to take either a short-term absence or formal leave of absence. Students in course work should consider either working with their course instructor to receive incomplete grades, or elect to drop to part-time status or to take a semester leave of absence. Students engaged in research must work with their faculty to develop plans for the research for the time they are away.
Students are encouraged to consult with relevant university faculty and staff as soon as possible as they begin making plans regarding time away. Students must contact the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs to register for Maternity Accommodations. Students will complete an information form and meet with a member of the Dean’s Office staff to determine resources and procedures appropriate for the individual student. Planning for the student’s discussion with her academic contact(s) (advisor, Associate Dean, etc.) will be reviewed during this meeting. The University policy on Maternity Accommodations may be found online at: https://www.cmu.edu/graduate/programs-services/maternity-accommodation-protocol.html

POLICY CHANGES
Students must utilize the degree requirements, policies, and procedures in effect at the time of matriculation, regardless of changes that may occur during the period of their candidacy in the MFA Program.

The MFA curriculum requires three consecutive years in residence. Extensive studio time and structured coursework are the focus of the first year. The second year introduces Contextual Practice in the first term, and work on the written thesis begins in the second term. The third year allows for continued progress on the written thesis alongside studio work toward the thesis exhibition; together, the exhibition and written thesis serve as the capstone of the degree.

MFA STUDIO [every term]
Studio visits with the MFA Core Faculty are the backbone of the Program and the primary means through which the Program interacts with and guides each student. Core Faculty will visit with first- and second-year MFA students a minimum of three times per term in group or individual sessions. In addition, first- and second-year MFAs will have studio visits with their School of Art advisor every two weeks, for a minimum of seven meetings each semester. Third-year students will meet with the members of their thesis committee approximately once every two weeks; these can be individual or group meetings as determined by the faculty and student.

MFA CRITICAL STUDIES SEMINARS [terms 1 and 2]
The two terms of MFA Critical Studies Seminar apply art history, theory, and criticism to activate dialogue and develop a shared common language within each MFA cohort. This shared inquiry and vocabulary connects a range of intellectual and creative pursuits and enables students, as producing artists, to respond to and situate themselves within the history and theory of creative practice and thought.

INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR [every term]
Integrative Seminar is designed as a group critique course involving the entire graduate cohort, and functions as the collective discussion surrounding each student’s individual practice. An anchor within the Program, the group critique sessions integrate the discourses of academic seminars, individual studio practices, and visiting artists, and functions as a weekly forum where the progression of individual and group ideas evolve within a discursive environment.

CONTEXTUAL PRACTICE [term 3]
Contextual Practice is a seminar course that fosters supervised student-initiated projects that connect artistic practices with the public sphere. Students work to identify, research, engage with and respond to an organization, site, or audience that pertains to their interests with the goal of expanding their field of discourse, and pushing their relationship with the public beyond the traditional confines of the contemporary art world.

UNIVERSITY ELECTIVE [required in terms 2 and 3; optional every other term]
Elective courses allow students to take advantage of the wealth of resources available across Carnegie Mellon and beyond. Electives are meant to enrich, expand, and introduce new ideas, areas of study, and forms of intellectual engagement. Students are strongly encouraged to research course offerings and consult their faculty to find suitable coursework in support of their studio practice and broader intellectual interests. At least one of the required electives must be taken outside of the School of Art.

MFA students are required to take an elective in both the Spring of their first year and the Fall of their second year. MFA candidates have the option of taking additional electives during any term in which they are enrolled within the Program. If a student enrolls in an elective their first term, this may count as one of their required electives, however approval for this elective to count towards their requirements must come from the Program Director. Enrollment of additional electives is at the discretion of the student; however, depending on the student’s academic standing within the Program, enrollment in these courses may be subject to the Program Director’s approval.

THESIS WRITING SEMINAR [terms 4 and 5]
The two terms of the Thesis Writing Seminar are designed to engage each student’s research goals and foster the process of forming their written thesis. Progressive focus on individual research, bibliographical development, formation of theoretical positions, and the defense of polemical conclusions define the arc of the two seminars. With faculty drawn from either critical studies or art history, each student is provided the support required to engage with scholarly material and form a thesis that constitutes the intellectual interests and theoretical positions relevant to their studio practice.

MFA THESIS EXHIBITION [term 6]
Working in close contact with the Program Director, their thesis advisors, and the staff of the Miller Institute for Contemporary Art, third-year MFA students will prepare for, install, and de-install their thesis exhibition work. Students are required to attend all exhibition planning meetings with the Miller ICA staff, and will provide deliverables regarding the exhibition, marketing, and publications on time. Limited funds will be provided to each student to assist in exhibition costs; these funds will be established annually with each student receiving equal support. Satisfactory participation in and completion of the MFA Thesis Exhibition will be determined by the student’s thesis advisors.

TRANSFER CREDIT
Carnegie Mellon University offers students the opportunity to take courses for credit through a cross-registration program (see Pittsburgh Council on Higher Education (PCHE) and Cross-registration on page 19). The MFA Program does not allow for transfer credit from other accredited institutions. The Carnegie Mellon University transcript will include information on PCHE courses as follows: Carnegie Mellon courses and courses taken through the university's cross-registration program will have grades recorded on the transcript and be factored into the GPA.

*In any of the above courses, the Program or its instructors can require a student to receive extra academic support, such as writing support from the University’s Global Communication Center, in order to meet the requirements of passing the course.

COURSE GUIDELINES AND PROCESSES

REGISTRATION
Students obtain University course information and register for most courses electronically at the HUB. Information regarding the registration procedure is distributed to each student prior to the registration period each semester. MFA students are advised to refer to the School's Course Schedule, rather than the University Schedule of Classes when planning to enroll in School of Art courses.

SCHEDULE CHANGES
The Hub’s Forms and Documents webpage (https://www.cmu.edu/hub/forms.html) has all of the forms students need to process various registration requests, including late withdrawals, audits, university withdrawals, and pass/fail grade option requests.

DROP/ADD/WITHDRAW PROCEDURES
Students taking undergraduate and Master's level courses must follow the procedures and deadlines for adding, dropping, or withdrawing from courses as identified on the academic calendar. Information can be found at https://www.cmu.edu/hub/registrar/course-changes/index.html

COURSE AUDIT
Auditing classes is defined as presence in the classroom without academic credit. Students may take part in class and take examinations, subject to the agreement of the instructor. Auditing courses is permitted, without additional charge, to all students who are already paying full-time tuition and fees. The decision to audit a class must be made by the official university deadline for adding a course, and is irreversible thereafter. If the requirements are met, the instructor will issue an “audit” grade (0) on the final grade roster. Students should complete a Course Audit form, available at the Hub and online at: https://www.cmu.edu/hub/docs/course-audit.pdf.

CROSS-REGISTRATION
CMU is a member of the Pittsburgh Council on Higher Education (PCHE), a consortium that allows students from any one of its member institutions to cross-register for any other during the Fall and Spring semesters. Participating institutions include Carlow College, Chatham College, Community College of Allegheny County, Duquesne University, LaRoche College, Point Park College, Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, Robert Morris University and the University of Pittsburgh. Students should contact the Registrar's office at participating schools for information on cross registration. A cross-registration request form is available from the Hub and at: https://www.cmu.edu/hub/docs/pche-cross-reg.pdf.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH COURSES
Through a special agreement, students may register for University of Pittsburgh Art History classes during the CMU registration period. There is no special agreement with other departments at the University of Pittsburgh; registration follows the PCHE guidelines, as noted above.

GRADUATE STUDENT ACADEMIC POLICY
ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

OVERVIEW
Please review the University Policy on Academic Integrity (https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/academic-integrity.html). The policy includes the University expectations around academic integrity and provides definitions of cheating, plagiarism, and unauthorized assistance.

A review of the University’s Academic Disciplinary Actions procedures (https://www.cmu.edu/student-affairs/theword/academic-discipline/index.html) is also recommended. These procedures outline the process for investigating, reporting, and adjudicating violations of the University Policy on Academic Integrity. The procedures also outline the appeal process.

PROGRAM POLICY
The MFA Program expects its graduate candidates to meet the highest standards of commitment and discipline to their studio practice. Meeting the Program’s curricular expectations while maintaining a positive and productive relationship with the graduate cohort is a key component to the Program’s and students’ success. In addition, as a part of Carnegie Mellon University, the MFA Program requires all students to meet university standards of personal, ethical and moral conduct. These standards require personal integrity, a commitment to honesty without compromise, as well as truth without equivocation and a willingness to place the good of the community above the good of the self. Students who cannot maintain the standards established by the University may be asked to leave the Program. For a better understanding of these terms, please reference the Carnegie Mellon Code on page 5 of this handbook, as well as the detailed explanation of these policies in the Carnegie Mellon’s Student Affairs office’s policy overview in the Student Affairs policy guide (The Word).

STUDENT’S RIGHTS
The School of Art adopts the University’s practices regarding student rights. Students who believe that they have been treated inappropriately are encouraged to raise their concern(s) with their MFA Program Director, Head of School, Program Coordinator, or other designated people in the College or central administration. Additionally, students may confer with the graduate student ombudsman, Suzie Laurich-McIntyre, slaurichmcintyre@cmu.edu, on issues of process or other concerns as they navigate conflicts. For further information about procedures that graduate students can pursue when addressing concerns and grievances, consult the University’s Grievance Procedures.

SUMMARY OF GRADUATE STUDENT APPEAL AND GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES
Graduate students will find the Summary of Graduate Student Appeal and Grievance Procedures on the Graduate Education Resource webpage (https://www.cmu.edu/graduate/policies/appeal-grievance-procedures.html). This document summarizes processes available to graduate students who seek review of academic and non-academic issues. Generally, graduate students are expected to seek informal resolution of all concerns within the School of Art before invoking formal processes. When an informal resolution cannot be reached, however, a graduate student who seeks further review of the matter is to follow the formal procedures outlined here. These appeal and grievance procedures apply to students in all graduate programs of the University. Students should refer to the specific information in this handbook for information about the administration and academic policies of the MFA program at the school level. Additionally, students may confer with the graduate student ombudsman, Suzie Laurich-McIntyre, slaurichmcintyre@cmu.edu, on issues of process or other concerns as they navigate conflicts.

COMMUNICATION BY EMAIL
The MFA Program relies on email communications for making and changing studio visit schedules and conducting other MFA-related business, which makes it imperative that all students read and reply to email messages sent to their Andrew email addresses in a timely manner. Each student is issued a University email address upon admittance. Failure to read and react to University communications in a timely manner does not absolve the student from knowing and complying with the content of the communications.

GRADUATE STUDENT GRADING POLICY

GRADING POLICY
School of Art graduate courses are graded as a Pass (P) / Fail (N) basis. All required graduate studio and academic courses in art must be completed with a grade of “P.” Failure of any required art courses may result in a student’s dismissal from the MFA Program.

MID-SEMESTER GRADES
All MFA students will receive mid-semester grades for their School of Art graduate courses. These grades will be posted online. Mid-semester grades are crucial opportunities for faculty and advisors to signal the quality of a student’s performance; students are therefore expected to check their mid-semester grades and engage in dialog with faculty and advisors with any concerns about their mid-semester standing.

REQUIRED ELECTIVES OUTSIDE THE SCHOOL OF ART
Required academic electives may be taken either for a grade or pass/fail. A “pass” is sufficient in order for the course taken to count as one of the two required. If an “N” grade is received, the course must be repeated or replaced by another elective course. Physical education courses are not considered academic courses and will not count for elective credit. Graduate students are required to discuss their elective choices with the Program Director and/or Program Coordinator prior to the registration period for each semester. We recommend that students make appointments with the Director and/or Coordinator during Advising week (see MFA calendar). Students must successfully pass a minimum of two electives (or 18-24 units) during their 3 years in the program. It is suggested that students take their electives during the 2nd and 3rd semesters, but students may take electives during other terms with approval from the Graduate Director. Students must take and pass a minimum of 18 unit hours of electives in order to successfully satisfy the elective requirement for the program. Students who do not take enough elective units or do not pass the required number of units will be required to do so before they can successfully complete the Program.

PROCESS OF ESTABLISHING A PASS/FAIL GRADE
University courses by default register as letter-grade option. If students choose to take a university academic elective as pass/fail, they must make arrangements for the grading to be changed to pass/fail. In order to set up an elective course as pass/fail, the student must first register for the course through the normal registration process. Before the end of the second week of the semester, students must submit an Enrollment Services "Pass/Fail Form" to the Registrar's office, located in the Hub in Warner Hall. Pass/Fail forms are available at the Hub (https://www.cmu.edu/hub/docs/pass-fail.pdf) and will require the signatures of both advisor (MFA Program Coordinator) and Head of Department (MFA Program Director).

PASS/FAIL GRADING
The registrar does not inform the instructor when a student takes a course as pass/fail. The instructor submits a letter grade and the registrar converts the letter grade to a pass/fail (P or N) grade. Grades “A” through “D” will receive credit for units passed and be recorded as a “P” on the student’s academic record. A failing grade will receive no credit and will be recorded as “N” on the student’s academic record. No quality points are assigned to “P” or “N” grades, thus pass/fail units are not factorable when calculating the QPA.

INCOMPLETE GRADES
Carnegie Mellon students are expected to complete a course during the academic semester in which the course was taken. However, if the instructor agrees, a grade of “I” (incomplete) may be given when a student, for reasons beyond their control, has been unable to complete the work of a course, but the work completed to date is of passing quality and the grade of incomplete provides no undue advantage to that student over other students. In awarding an “I” grade, an instructor must specify the requirements for completing the work and designate a default letter grade in case the student does not follow through. Students must complete the required coursework no later than the end of the following academic semester, or sooner if required by the instructor. The instructor must record the permanent grade by the last day of the examination period of that following semester, or the default grade will be administratively assigned by the Registrar.

ATTENDANCE & CLASS PARTICIPATION
Regular attendance in all studio, academic classes, and MFA-related business meetings is expected and required. In no case can a student expect to receive a passing grade without regular attendance and participation in class. Simply submitting projects, no matter what their quality, at mid-semester or at the end of the semester will not result in a passing grade. Students are responsible for obtaining information missed through lateness or absence. Not showing up or arriving late to studio visits with visiting artists without prior notification to the relevant people may result in a loss of future studio visits with visitors.

REASONS FOR DISMISSAL OR PROBATION
Students may be dismissed from the program or put on academic probation if they fail any required MFA course (i.e., MFA Studio, Critical Studies seminars, Integrative Seminar, Contextual Practice, or Thesis Writing seminars). Students may also be dismissed from the Program or put on academic probation if their behavior violates University policies on academic integrity and community standards as outlined in the general student handbook, the Word. Students who are dismissed from the Program or put on academic probation will receive notification by writing by the MFA Program Director.

PROCEDURES FOR ACADEMIC ACTION
Incidents of suspected academic disciplinary violations will be handled initially at the level at which the incident occurred (i.e., the course or project) and at the School level and will be reported immediately to the MFA Program Director and Head of School. Review, decision, and action on academic and community standard violations will involve the instructor(s) or academic supervisors and MFA Program Director. In the most severe instances, the instructor and Program Director may recommend suspension or dismissal from the Program. The student will be notified immediately by the instructor and/or the Program Director, in writing, of the decision and the basis for the decision and the penalty imposed. We stand by the University’s policies for academic integrity and community standards as written in CMU’s student handbook, The Word.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY POLICY
The School of Art follows university policy on intellectual property as it applies to graduate students. This policy is binding for graduate students when they are admitted. The complete university policy is in the University Graduate Student Guidebook: http://www.cmu.edu/policies/documents/GradDisc.html

MASTER’S CANDIDACY TIME LIMIT
Students should complete all requirements for the MFA degree within three years from original matriculation as a master’s student. Once this time-to-degree limit has lapsed, the student may resume work towards a master’s degree only if extensions are given to the student due to extraordinary circumstances, such as a medical leave of absence, military or public service, family or parental leave, or temporary disability. The Program may, upon the approval of the dean (or designate), defer the lapse for a period commensurate with the duration of that interruption.
After completing course requirements and commencement, students may not use university facilities, unless given explicit permission for a defined purpose and limited period of time has been granted by the School.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIP POLICY

OVERVIEW
Graduate Assistantships are a required component of the MFA program. They offer a variety of opportunities to develop teaching and other professional experience through working with a member of the art faculty or staff. Graduate Assistants provide valuable support for the School both inside and outside the classroom. Graduate Assistants are expected to work no more than 8 hours per week, inclusive of time spent in the classroom.

RESPONSIBILITIES
Graduate Assistantships can follow one of several tracks—teaching or research. A graduate teaching assistant, which comprises the majority of assistantships, supports faculty in the pedagogy of the classroom, including but not limited to preparing class materials, evaluating student work, and developing workshops. Research assistants support faculty studio work and independent research projects. The specific duties for each graduate assistant is determined in agreement with the supervising instructor or staff member at the start of each semester, and indicated on a Graduate Assistant Agreement form, which is signed by all parties involved. A copy of this form is included in the Appendix.

REQUIREMENTS FOR NON-NATIVE SPEAKERS OF ENGLISH
Graduate students are required to have a certain level of fluency in English before they can instruct in Pennsylvania, as required by the English Fluency in Higher Education Act of 1990. Through this Act, all institutions of higher education in the state are required to evaluate and certify the English fluency of all instructional personnel, including teaching assistants and interns. The full university policy can be reviewed at: https://www.cmu.edu/policies/faculty/evaluation-certification-english-fluency-instructors.html. The fluency of all instructional personnel will be rated by the ICC to determine at what level of responsibility the student can TA.

In addition to administering the International Teaching Assistant (ITA) Test (a mandatory screening test for any non-native speaker of English), the Intercultural Communication Center (ICC) helps teaching assistants who are non-native English speakers develop fluency and cultural understanding to teach successfully at Carnegie Mellon. Visit the ICC website for additional information: www.cmu.edu/icc.

REQUESTING & ASSIGNING ASSISTANTSHIP SUPERVISORS
Assignment of Graduate Assistant supervisors is overseen by the MFA Program Director and is based on the school’s needs, faculty requests, and the year of the MFA student. Assistantships are directly assigned in the student’s first term of study; following that, students will request four faculty with whom they would like to work, and order their preferences. The dates for these requests are on the MFA calendar. The Program aims to meet the requests of the MFA student community, however final assignment of assistantships is determined by the Program Director and based on the needs of the faculty and school.

ACCOUNTABILITY
Graduate Assistants are accountable to the faculty and staff they are working with and expected to fulfill the basic expectations of a support faculty or administrator, being present in all classes, offering the support needed in-and-outside of the classroom, engaging professionally with all students, and following the guidelines set by the university regarding integrity, honesty, and professionalism. Failure to adequately fulfill Graduate Assistantship responsibilities may affect a student’s standing in the Program.

EVALUATION
Graduate students and their supervising faculty are required to meet at midterm, and again at the conclusion of the semester in order to give feedback on the GA’s performance, and to revisit a GA’s and supervising faculty’s goals. Basic guidelines for that conversation will be circulated to all faculty and students in advance. If needed, these evaluation meetings may involve the MFA Program Director or Head of School. It is the goal of the School to provide a supportive environment for all of its Graduate Assistants, with constructive criticism and clear expectations. However, if the Graduate Assistant fails to meet the expected standards of their assistantship, their assignment may be altered. Graduate students who experience concerns or conflicts with their supervising faculty are counseled to first take up those issues with the faculty directly and/or the MFA Program Director.

GRADUATE STUDIOS

STUDIO SELECTION PROCESS
The selection process for graduate student studios is based on the year of the student, with the third-year students selecting first, then the second-year, and first-year having their studios assigned by the MFA Program Director. Rising second- and third-year students may elect to keep their studio from the previous year, unless those spaces are reconfigured or reassigned for School of Art needs. The Studio selection period occurs at the close of each year. If a student is moving from their studio they will be given a deadline to have their studio cleared and returned to its original state, which often occurs no later than two weeks after the conclusion of the academic year. Students who retain their studio will have full access over the summer, while those who move studios will have access to their new studio following the prior occupant’s deadline to vacate, and the School’s need to restore the space to working condition. Third year students are required to move out of their studios by May 30.
STUDIO USAGE AGREEMENT
All MFA students will be required to sign agreements that outline policies established by the School, college, and university regarding health and safety guidelines as they relate to their studio occupancy. A copy of the School's Studio Usage Agreement is in the Appendix.

PERSONAL PROPERTY & RENTERS’ INSURANCE
In accordance with university policy, students are responsible for properly using and maintaining all Carnegie Mellon property assigned to their use. Students will be charged with the cost of restoring all property damaged or defaced through negligence or misuse. School of Art equipment is to be used by students who have received direct permission of faculty or staff responsible for the equipment.

The University insurance policy does not cover a student’s personal property (even if that personal property is used in your artmaking) that may be damaged or stolen from classrooms or studio spaces.

It is strongly recommended that students take all reasonable precautions to avoid loss or theft of their personal items and obtain renters’ or student personal property insurance from an outside insurance agency for coverage against loss or damage.

GRADUATE ADVISING STRUCTURE & EXPECTATIONS

The advising structure for the MFA program is intensive and varies depending on the year of the student.

FIRST-YEAR MFA STUDENTS
First-year students are advised by each of the four Core Faculty members and by one SoA faculty member; students should plan to meet with each of the four Core Faculty a minimum of three times per semester, for a total of twelve meetings. These meetings will occur on a regularly-scheduled rotation, which will be established by the Program Coordinator at the outset of the semester. First-year students should plan to meet with their SoA faculty advisor every other week, for a total of seven meetings per semester. Incoming MFA students are assigned a SoA advisor for their first semester, but will have the opportunity to request a different SoA advisor in each subsequent term.

SECOND-YEAR MFA STUDENTS
Second-year MFA students are advised by each of the four Core Faculty members and by one SoA faculty member; students should plan to meet with each of the four Core Faculty a minimum of three times per semester, for a total of twelve meetings. Students should plan to meet with their SoA faculty advisor every other week, for a total of seven meetings per semester. In addition to this, second-year students meet with an Outside Advisor four times over the course of an academic year either in person or remotely (i.e. via Skype).

THIRD-YEAR MFA STUDENTS
Third-year students are advised by their Thesis Committee, which consists of one Core Faculty, one SoA faculty advisor, and one University Advisor, a tenure-track faculty member from a department or school outside of the School of Art, but within CMU. Third-year students will also work with an Outside Advisor four times over the course of an academic year either in person or remotely (i.e. via Skype). The Outside Advisor should be different from the one they worked with from their second year and is not involved with the written thesis, nor is a member of the thesis committee. Meetings with the Core Faculty advisor and SoA advisor should occur individually, once every two weeks (i.e., every other week, for a total of seven meetings per semester per advisor; University Advisors should meet with students at least five times over the course of a student’s third year). University Advisors attend a student’s Fall and Spring reviews, and sign off the final written thesis.

THESIS COMMITTEES FOR SECOND AND THIRD-YEAR MFA STUDENTS
As noted above, thesis committees comprise two tenure-track faculty from the School of Art (one of whom is a Core Faculty member) and one University Advisor (a Carnegie Mellon faculty member from a university department or research unit outside of the School of Art). Second-year students will meet twice with their SoA thesis committee members in conjunction with the Thesis Writing Seminar in the spring semester. See the section that follows for a more detailed description of each’s responsibilities and roles. The Program Director must be consulted and approve the selection of all committee members.

GRADUATE ADVISOR ROLES & EXPECTATIONS

CORE FACULTY ADVISORS
The MFA Program is guided by a core of four faculty that collectively provide critical oversight and intellectual support for students through one-on-one advising, mentorship, and studio visits. MFA Core Faculty will conduct a minimum of three hour-long studio visits with each MFA student per semester. While the majority of these visits will likely occur individually, they may occasionally be conducted in groups, as needed by the Core Faculty and students.

SCHOOL OF ART ADVISOR (SoA Advisor)
School of Art advisors are expected to meet with advisees at least once every two weeks for 45 minutes to an hour, for a total of seven meetings per semester. The studio visit is meant to allow for in depth discussion, review of studio progress, research support, and critique. First and second-year students can change their SoA advisor each semester. Third year students will keep their SoA advisor for the full year and that advisor will serve on their thesis committee.

OUTSIDE ADVISORS
Second and third-year students work with an advisor outside of the University who can critically inform their artistic practice. This Outside Advisor can be an artist, curator, writer or anyone else who can strategically help the student in the development of their work and career. Students are expected to meet with their Outside Advisor four times over the course of the year either remotely or in person. It is encouraged that students spread out these meetings over the course of the year. The School of Art will provide up to $600 each year as an honorarium to the outside advisor. The process for selecting, confirming, and contracting outside advisors will be presented by the Program Director and administered by the Program Coordinator.

UNIVERSITY ADVISOR
University Advisors work closely with third-year MFA students, and are expected to meet and/or review materials approximately five times over the course of the academic year to provide guidance that will critically inform a student’s artistic practice and written thesis. Meetings should last about 45 minutes. Students are encouraged to distribute these meetings evenly over the course of the year. University Advisors attend a student’s Fall and Spring reviews, and sign off on a student’s final written thesis.

THE ADVISEE’S RESPONSIBILITY TO ALL ADVISORS
While the majority of advisory appointments with Core Faculty advisors will be set by the Graduate Program Coordinator, graduate students are responsible for scheduling their meetings with their SoA Advisor, University Advisor, and Outside Advisor, and making sure that these meetings occur with the appropriate frequency and duration. It is imperative that students attend all advisor meetings, and that the meetings are approached with a level of preparation and forethought in keeping with the expected standards of the Program. If a student cannot attend an advisory meeting, it is their responsibility to contact the advisor as far in advance as possible, and to reschedule that meeting. If the student has concerns about the availability of their advisor, or the degree of engagement they experience with them, they are urged to speak with the MFA Program Director.

SOA ADVISOR SELECTION POLICY
The selection process of SOA Advisors is based on the year of the student, with the third-year students selecting first, then the second-year, and then the first-year. However, faculty preference and availability is also taken into consideration. In addition, the MFA Program Director may intervene in the process to best match students with faculty most relevant to their practice. Prior to each selection deadline, students will be asked to submit a list of four faculty members who they would like as advisors in order of preference.

CHANGING ADVISORS
Students may change their SoA advisors each semester, except for the third year, as outlined herein. If students need to change advisors at any time during the course of a term, they should consult with the MFA Program Director.

SOA ADVISOR AVAILABILITY
SOA faculty advise no more than two students per term, and of these two, serve on no more than one thesis committee. If there are more than two students who have requested a particular faculty member, faculty work in conjunction with the MFA Program Director to make the decision, considering seniority and assessing which students they believe they can advise most effectively.

VISITING LECTURERS & OTHER GUESTS

STUDIO VISITS
The School of Art’s Visiting Lecture Series brings artists, writers, and critics to the school throughout the year. Attendance at these lectures is mandatory for all graduate students; please notify the graduate coordinator in the event of extenuating circumstances. In addition to a public lecture, most visitors hold studio visits with MFA students. Each term the graduate students will work with the Program Director and Program Coordinator to determine the studio visit schedule and logistics. The year of the student within the Program, as well as individual practice, and areas of interest, will be a factor in the decision process. The goal will be to make the most logical and fair pairing between visiting artist and student, with the balance of meetings assigned equally across the graduate cohort. In addition to those coming through the SoA Lecture Series, the CAS series, and the STUDIO for Creative Inquiry, the MFA Program will invite other visiting and local artists, writers, and curators to conduct workshops or studio visits with graduate students. After one “no show” (not showing up) for a studio visit with a visiting artist without prior notification to the relevant people (the graduate coordinator and/or those who are meeting with the artist before or after you), a student may result in a loss of future studio visits with visitors.

HOSTING VISITORS
Graduate students hosting visitors will be expected to work with the Graduate Coordinator to organize the visitor’s calendar, help with transportation when needed, attend informal meals, and introduce the visitor at the outset of the lecture.

GRADUATE REVIEWS

GRADUATE REVIEW POLICY
The MFA Program includes a comprehensive review for all students at mid-year and the end of the year. All students are expected to show steady progress in their creative work at each review. Reviews are conducted by the MFA Core and School of Art faculty and scheduled to take an hour and a half. Reviews take approximately 90 minutes. Students should expect to give a presentation of approximately 30 minutes in which they present examples of recent and current work, speak to goals and objectives moving forward with their practice, and touch on the written materials noted below. In all cases, a discussion with the review committee will follow the student’s presentation.

MATERIALS FOR REVIEW
Students should provide to the Program Coordinator a review packet consisting of an updated c.v., an artist statement that briefly frames their practice and research; an overview of courses taken to date, a list of intended courses they foresee being valuable for their work; as well as a bibliography of reference materials (texts, films, television, websites, or any other influences) they currently engage with in their studio research. Review packets are due to the MFA Coordinator 7 days prior to reviews.

SCHEDULING OF REVIEWS
First- and second-year MFA reviews are held near the end of each semester. Third year reviews occur at the end of the Fall semester and during the MFA thesis exhibition at the Miller Gallery. Third year reviews are attended by all thesis committee members. Reviews may be held in the student’s own studio, or in another location agreed upon. The MFA Coordinator arranges all reviews. Students must notify the MFA Coordinator. of their equipment needs and room preferences two weeks in advance of reviews. The MFA Coordinator will provide the names of committee members and review details to the student in advance of all reviews.

REVIEW FEEDBACK
At mid-year reviews the assigned committee’s assessment is conveyed through discussion after the presentation; no written reports are issued for any mid-year reviews. At the end of year reviews (first-and second-year students only) the committee assesses the presentation and makes a recommendation to the MFA Program Director and Head of the School regarding the student’s progress; the student is notified of this decision in writing. The review committee may recommend other courses of action. The committee’s written recommendation becomes part of the student’s record. An appeals process is available should the need arise.

THIRD-YEAR THESIS EXHIBITION REVIEW & CAPSTONE CRITIQUE
Third-year students have a thesis committee review that takes place in their thesis exhibition space. The final committee review is meant to offer substantial feedback on the thesis exhibition and post-graduate career guidance, while giving students the opportunity to summarize their experience at CMU in relation to the work on view. In addition, while the thesis exhibition is up, each third-year student participates in a capstone critique that is open to all full-time faculty and distinguished critics and curators. This review, combined with the thesis committee’s approval of the written thesis at the end of the first term, concludes the candidate’s review for completion of the Program.

THESIS GUIDELINES

THESIS EXHIBITION
A culminating exhibition is required of all students in the Spring semester of their third year. This exhibition provides a platform for the MFA candidate and is understood as the capstone presentation of their work. The exhibition may vary in form and location depending on the opportunities afforded to the Program. The standard exhibition platform is typically The Miller Institute for Contemporary Art, however the MFA Program Director can work with the graduating class on platform options if desired. The thesis exhibition is mandated for graduation, and every student must take part. Limited funds will be provided to each student to assist in exhibition costs; these funds will be established annually with each student receiving equal support.

WRITTEN THESIS
In conjunction with the culminating graduate studio work, MFA candidates are required to complete a written thesis. This thesis must be approved by the thesis committee and submitted by the date specified on the MFA Calendar. The degree will not be conferred until the thesis has been submitted and approved. The general requirements for the thesis are outlined below. Following the approval of the thesis, by the Committee members, one signed print copy and one PDF version must be submitted to the MFA Coordinator for the University Library’s Research Showcase, an institutional repository granting open access to intellectual work produced by CMU faculty and students. The MFA Program Coordinator will forward the necessary forms and instructions to all third-year students.

THESIS COMMITTEE
For a full description of the makeup, roles, and expectation of the MFA thesis committee, please see page 28.

EXPECTATION OF WRITTEN MFA THESIS
The written thesis should be no less than 6,000 words, or 24 double-spaced typed pages. The goal of the thesis is to offer an in-depth analytical or theoretical argument. The subject matter, focus, and objectives of the thesis are left to students in consultation with their advisors, however the expectation is that the written thesis relate to the studio practice in a direct or tangential manner insomuch as it expands the research and broader interests of the artist. The subject of the thesis must constitute a researchable subject relevant to the artist, and appropriate for the length and form of the thesis paper.

ABSTRACT
The abstract is an important component of your thesis. Presented at the beginning of the thesis, it is likely the first substantive description of your work read by an external examiner. You should view it as an opportunity to set accurate expectations. The abstract is a one-page (maximum of 350 words) summary of the thesis. Abstracts should be written in the third-person and provide a concise overview of the thesis contents.

DOCUMENT FORMAT
Unless otherwise required by an instructor or advisor, students should format their theses according to the Chicago Manual of Style. For a condensed version of these guidelines that target the thesis specifically, see Kate L. Turabian’s A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 9th edition.

Your thesis should follow the following general formatting specifications: 8 ½ by 11 inch paper, double-spaced typed, 12-point Times New Roman or 10-point Arial font, with all pages numbered in the lower right-hand corner. Left margin, 1 1/2” (minimum), while other margins are 1” (minimum) for all text and illustrations.

TABLE OF CONTENTS
A basic table of contents should show the topics and organization of your thesis. Each major section or chapter should be recognized in your table of contents, along with the page number it is located on. You may also wish to include subsections or subheaders, if your thesis includes these in its organization. For guidelines on formatting the Table of Contents, please review this example.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS [optional]
This section acknowledges any individuals or organizations that provided noteworthy support and encouragement of the student’s work in pursuit of the degree. A dedication and/or preface may be included here if desired.

BODY OF THESIS
The body of the thesis should be a multi-section text that pragmatically argues, proves, presents, and/or theorizes on the topic chosen. There are myriad approaches to how the MFA Thesis can be constructed; it may take a journalistic or literary essay form, traditional scholarly dissertation style, hybrid narrative that includes research materials, or other experimental formats. However the thesis is formed, it is required to meet the “expectations of the written thesis” and cannot use style or form to avoid the expected research outcomes of the thesis. As with the subject matter, if the candidate plans an experimental approach to the written thesis, the thesis committee must approve its proposed form in order to assure that the thesis offers an in-depth analytical or theoretical argument.

NOTES & BIBLIOGRAPHY
Students should use the Chicago Manual of Style’s Notes and Bibliography style of citing sources (not the author-date style). This style uses footnotes at the end of each page to cite direct quotations, paraphrases, and ideas, and a bibliography at the end of the thesis, which should include full publication information for all of the works cited in your notes. Discursive notes (i.e. footnotes) should be kept brief or avoided altogether. Notes should be numbered throughout the essay or chapter in an unbroken sequence, in superscript, and placed at the end of the sentence to which they refer. Per Chicago style guidelines, Op. cit., loc. cit. and idem should not be used as forms of reference, but ibid. may be used when referring back to the previously cited source. When a reference is identical with the immediately previous one apart from the page numbers cited, the abbreviation ‘Ibid.’ (a contraction of Ibidem, meaning ‘in the same place’) may be used instead of the short title of the book or article concerned.

Apply the following conventions when composing your notes and bibliography:

APPENDICES
This section is used to document any highly technical or detailed material, which might hinder the flow of reading in the main body of the text, but provides useful information for the interested reader. Appendices should be numbered and referred to in the text by their number.

ILLUSTRATIONS
Considerable attention should be given to the presentation of illustrations in the thesis. All copies of the thesis should contain the same high quality illustrations. Cite the image in your bibliography following the style for the source where the image was found, such as book, article, website, etc. If there is a photographer or illustrator use his or her name in place of the author (see above example that shows how to cite a work of art). If there is a caption, use the caption in place of the title of an article, or add the caption title in quotation marks with proper capitalization. Add a page number where the image is found. If a numbered figure is given, add it after the page number.
FACILITIES

MAILBOXES
Each graduate student will have a mailbox in the School of Art main office that should be checked on a regular basis.

MEDIA EQUIPMENT CENTER
The Media Equipment Center (MEC), located in CFA 307A, maintains a growing collection of equipment available for art students to borrow, including: digital cameras, lenses, tripods and other supports; video cameras, audio equipment, displays and projectors, lighting equipment, computers, and input devices. Access to the School’s Chroma Key Studio, a reservable space with lighting and backdrops for video recording, is also managed through the MEC.

Students must sign a Lending Agreement form, which outlines the procedures and guidelines to borrow equipment, to be added to the list of authorized borrowers. A copy of this form is included in the Appendix. To request extended loans, equipment reservations, or general information about the MEC, contact: lending@cmu.edu or call 412.268.2424.

GRADUATE STUDENT STUDY ROOM
Until the Program moves to the renovated Hall of Arts building, the graduate student study room is provided for the School of Art MFA student body to use for study, research, and class preparation. This space has been established as a quiet workspace, and it is expected to remain clean and organized. It is available to MFA students at all times, except during School of Art classes or special events scheduled in the room. Please consult the class schedule posted outside the door for availability. All students will receive, review, and sign off on the room’s policies at the start of the academic year. A copy of the policy is located in the Appendix.

OFF-CAMPUS PLATFORM (MELWOOD GALLERY)
The MFA Program’s off-campus exhibition space at 477 Melwood Avenue, Platform, is owned by the University and shared with the Miller Institute for Contemporary Art, the School of Drama, and the Masters of Arts Management program. Graduate students who make use of Platform for exhibition, academic, or other extra-academic use must conduct themselves in accordance with the Carnegie Mellon Student Code of Conduct (mentioned above and here). In particular, they are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, and meet the highest standards of personal, ethical and moral conduct possible and to agree, in writing, to follow the space’s Policies and Procedures. Students must inform the MFA Program Director immediately of any issues that arise.

DOHERTY HALL FABRICATION FACILITIES & POLICIES

SAFETY TRAINING REQUIREMENTS
CMU Environmental Health & Safety requires that all students who work in university labs and fabrication shop facilities must complete a series of online courses that introduce best practices and safety guidelines. This training software, known as BioRAFT, is available online at https://www.cmu.edu/ehs/BioRAFT/. Students must complete all training requirements before approaching School of Art staff for in-person training on specific fabrication facilities and equipment and prior to accessing School of Art equipment. Failure to observe and adhere to university and School of Art safety guidelines may result in loss of equipment or facility access, fines, and/or removal from the program.

AUTONOMOUS USE POLICY
To gain access to any School of Art fabrication facility, MFA students must complete all university safety training requirements as well as participate in an in-person training session provided by School of Art technicians. These training sessions are typically scheduled at the beginning of the Fall and Spring semesters. It is the responsibility of the student to attend these sessions before accessing any School of Art facility. Upon completion of this training, MFA students may gain key access and work independently in the following facilities: Woodshop (C202), Metalshop (DH C202), and Print Studio (DH C300). Key access may be retained throughout the duration of your enrollment, including over the summer.

LIMITED ACCESS FACILITIES
Some facilities within the School of Art are not permitted to be operated without the presence of a trained monitor, technician or faculty advisor. In particular, these facilities include the CNC Router, Laser Lab, Digital Print Lab and Ceramics Kiln Room. Only MFA students who have been trained by a School of Art Technician and are currently employed as a student monitor may have key access to these facilities. Keys to these spaces must be returned during the summer sessions.

STUDENT MONITORS
Each semester, all MFA students are eligible to apply to become a student monitor in a specific area within Doherty Hall. Student monitors may work a minimum of 3 hours per week and a maximum of 12. Student monitors will receive facility-specific training from a School of Art technician and will be responsible for facilitating student use of the equipment during their scheduled work time. Monitors will also be given key access to their area and will be responsible for returning keys at the end of each semester of employment.
SHARED OPEN-ACCESS FACILITIES
For spaces that do not require keyed access we ask that you coordinate with the appropriate School of Art staff technician if you are planning extended overnight or multi-day usage. The only exception to this rule is the Grad Project Space, in which MFA students are free to organize independently.

PROJECT STORAGE
MFA Students who wish to store materials, projects, or equipment outside of their studio must coordinate with the Sculpture Technician prior to doing so. Students must also be aware that all storage of personal belongings is done at their own risk. Students must clearly label all property. The School of Art is not responsible for theft, loss, or damage to stored student property.

PROJECT CONSULTATION
School of Art technicians are available by appointment to consult on technical, material, and fabrication-based needs. This personnel includes Steve Gurysh, Sculpture Technician; Sidney Church, Digital and Physical Computing Technician; Kellie Hames, Print Technician; and Bob Kollar, Technical Manager. While School of Art technicians may advise on best practices, safety training, and project-specific guidance related to facilities available within the School of Art, technicians are not obligated to be involved in the production of student work. The School also reserves the right to determine whether student usage of a facility is beyond the scope of our capabilities. In the event this is determined, a technician may request that a student seek resources outside the School or University.

More specific shop safety guidelines may be found in the Appendix.

FINANCES, GRANTS & PROJECT FUNDING

GRADUATE SMALL PROJECT HELP FUND (GuSH)
GuSH Research grants provide small grants of $750 to graduate students for forwarding their research at Carnegie Mellon University. Grants are provided by the Graduate Student Assembly and the Provost's Office, and are managed by the Office of the Assistant Vice Provost for Graduate Education. GuSH grants are intended to be used against costs incurred in the completion of research required for a graduate degree at Carnegie Mellon and by students whose personal or departmental resources have been exhausted. A graduate student is eligible for one grant in each fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) they are a graduate student. The GuSH application form can be accessed here.

Application period deadlines:

Fall 2019: Application opens 8/26 and closes 9/8
Spring 2020: Application opens 1/14 and closes 1/26
Summer 2020: Application opens 5/4 and closes 5/18
Fall 2020: Application opens 8/24 and closes 9/7

GuSH CROSSWALK SEED GRANT
The GuSH Crosswalk Seed Grant is provided to graduate students and teams for research project pilots that cross two or more departments or colleges through the new ProSEED Initiative. These grants are to promote creative interdisciplinarity and collaborations among researchers across campus. Unlike standard GuSH grants, the research projects proposed do not have to meet the requirements of research for a required degree but can be for pursuing pilot projects, creating entrepreneurial opportunities and exploring interdisciplinary domains. Information and details about the application process can be found here.

GRADUATE CONFERENCE FUNDING
Graduate Student Conference Funding is provided by the Graduate Student Assembly and the Provost's Office and is managed by the Office of the Assistant Vice Provost for Graduate Education. The goal of the funding is to enable more Carnegie Mellon graduate students to make presentations at key conferences and exhibitions in their fields or attend conferences and learn about the broader field of study to which they belong. This funding opportunity is available to individual graduate students, a group of graduate students attending the same conference and/or a group of members from a registered club/organization attending the same conference. If you have submitted an abstract to present at a conference, you do not have to wait until it is accepted to apply.

This award amount is $500 per student with a maximum amount of $1,000 per group. Awardees are selected through a lottery process on a quarterly basis. This is considered a partial source of support and applicants are required to seek funds from the following other sources first, before applying for these funds, including: funds from the conferences they will be attending; their own advisor; their department; their college. A letter from the applicant's advisor is required. Information and details about the application process can be found at: https://www.cmu.edu/graduate/professional-development/index.html.

GRADUATE STUDIO RESEARCH FUNDING (“ON THE GROUND”)
Graduate Students may be awarded limited funding for individual research related to their studio practice. The goal for the funds is to enrich graduate research and academic engagement within the student’s field of interest and to support unique opportunities that can not be funded by other sources. Graduate students will only be awarded research funds once per academic year, and the Head of School will determine the availability of funds. Funds will not be awarded for the production or fabrication of work or travel to see exhibitions or performances. The funds are awarded by the MFA Program Director through direct application. Application for funds should be submitted via email to the Program Director and Coordinator and include a paragraph outlining the intended research and its relevance to the student’s practice, a timeline for the use of the funds, and a budget that includes any other funding the student is using for the travel/research. Students receiving travel-related research funds will be required to write a summary of their research trip for the On The Ground student dispatch series published on the school’s website and in the weekly electronic newsletter. On the Ground dispatches may follow the interview-style template and include 2-3 images from travel. They are due to the Program Director and Program Coordinator within 30 days of return from travel; failure to deliver a dispatch in a timely manner will result in a student being prohibited from receiving graduate studio research funding for the subsequent academic year. All On the Ground requests must be submitted to the Program Director by May 15th for summer research projects.

FRANK-RATCHYE FUND FOR ART @ THE FRONTIER GRANTS
The STUDIO for Creative Inquiry administers the Frank-Ratchye Fund for Art @ the Frontier (FRFAF): an endowment to encourage the creation of innovative artworks by the faculty, students, and staff of Carnegie Mellon University.

Regular Grants can range from $100 to *$10,000, with proposals evaluated twice annually. Application dates will be posted at the start of the Fall semester. Applicants for regular Grants are encouraged to contact the Associate Director of the STUDIO, Tom Hughes, in advance of the deadline to discuss your application.

Microgrants are available to assist projects that require modest support (under $500). The FRFAF Microgrant Program exists to spur investigations at their earliest and most fragile state, enabling “rapid-response research.” Applications are accepted on a rolling basis throughout each semester, while funds remain. For more information and to access application forms please visit STUDIO for Creative Inquiry.

*FRFAF grants that exceed $5000 are rare, so applicants should consult the STUDIO if planning larger funding requests.

PURCHASING AND REIMBURSEMENT PROCEDURES AND POLICIES
The MFA Program allows for limited, budgeted, and approved purchases made by students, or staff on behalf of students, for exhibitions. Student purchases for On the Ground funding, exhibitions (Melwood, MFA Thesis exhibition, parking fees accrued while transporting guests of the Program, etc) that fall within budgeted amounts, and that receive prior approval by the Program Director, may be reimbursed. Students who need staff members to purchase items on their behalf are advised to request these purchases as far in advance as possible. Students need to submit itemized receipts that indicate items purchased and proof of payment (a receipt must show the last 4 digits of a credit card), along with an explanation of the purpose for the items purchased within 30 days of purchase to the MFA Program Coordinator. Students who purchase items themselves are responsible for all applicable state and federal taxes. Students who wish to avoid taxes should contact the MFA Program Coordinator or School of Art Business Manager to make necessary purchases on their behalf.

FINANCIAL AID
New graduate students will be informed of financial aid awards in their acceptance letters. Returning graduate students are informed of financial aid during the Summer preceding the coming academic year. Signing and returning the initial acceptance or follow-up award letter constitutes agreement of the offered aid. Information on all Federal Student Loan Programs can be obtained from the Department of Financial Aid, Warner Hall 315, x8-2068. Graduate students should consult the graduate student financial aid information found on the HUB website: https://www.cmu.edu/sfs/financial-aid/graduate/index.html. Students will find the Graduate Financial Aid Guide, information about funding options, and how to apply for financial aid and other helpful links.

MAINTAINING AWARDED FINANCIAL AID
Failure to fulfill the assistantship requirements of the MFA Program may result in termination of the scholarship. See the section on Graduate Assistantship Policy. With the exception of several special scholarships that are for one year only, and will be identified as such, students can expect that the School will maintain the same level of funding throughout their three years in the MFA Program. Students will be notified in writing of any change in support at least two months before the change will go into effect. If funding is lost or reduced, students may file an appeal with the Head of the School, Charlie White. To retain their financial aid packages, students are required to be enrolled as full-time students (36 units or more), obtain a “P” in all School of Art courses, and successfully complete year-end reviews.

INTERNAL FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES THROUGH CARNEGIE MELLON
Graduate students should consult the graduate student financial aid information found on The HUB website. Students will find the Graduate Financial Aid Guide, information about funding options and how to apply for financial aid and other helpful links.

EMERGENCY LOANS
The Office of the Dean of Student Affairs offers short-term emergency loans for supplies, medication, food or other unexpected circumstances. The loans are interest-free and for short periods of time (not longer than a month). Students who need to obtain an Emergency Loan should visit the Student Affairs Office or call 412-268-2075 for an appointment.

HEALTH, HOUSING & SUPPORT PROGRAMS

It is recommended that all graduate students familiarize themselves with the 2018-19 Graduate Health and Immunization Guide, which may be found here. Details on required immunizations, insurance, and university medical insurance plans are located therein.

HEALTH INSURANCE
The University requires that all students be covered by a medical insurance plan. The University offers several health insurance plans for graduate students. These plans, designed with input from graduate students, provide catastrophic, moderate, and comprehensive levels of coverage depending on the chosen plan. All students, whether on one of these plans or not, must inform the Health Center of their insurance coverage. Students can enroll for insurance coverage at Student Health Services.

Students must submit a health history form to Student Health Services and be up-to-date on required immunizations by June 29 in order to start the Fall semester. Immunization requirements for new students may be found here. Students may contact Lisa Lonchar, llonchar@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-2157 (option 4) with questions about immunization requirements. Students born after 1956 are required to show proof of having had two doses of measles vaccine or of having had the disease. Religious and medical exemptions are honored with the understanding that if a measles outbreak would occur, these students would be unable to attend classes until the outbreak was over.

HOUSING
Many of our graduate students live in off-campus houses and apartments in the many neighborhoods surrounding the university. Public transportation and university shuttle buses make nearby communities extremely accessible to the campus. Housing Services does provide some local area information, resource links, and CMU Off-Campus Housing, which can be found in the Community Housing section. Please contact Housing Services at housing@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-2139 for any questions you may have regarding graduate housing.

PARKING
If students wish to obtain a parking permit for a campus lot, application forms are available from the Parking Office, located in the parking garage, starting mid-May for the following Fall semester. Students should contact the Parking Office directly (x8-2052) to request an application packet. Applications are due in the beginning of May. The Parking Office allocates space requests in this order: Faculty/Staff, Graduate Students, Undergraduate Commuters, and Undergraduate Residents.

EMPLOYMENT
The School of Art recommends that graduate students not obtain employment outside the School during the academic year. Few, if any, summer employment opportunities are available for graduate students in the School of Art.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE
Leave of Absence means temporarily leaving the University with a stated intention to return. A leave of absence may be voluntary or involuntary. If the leave is voluntary, the student may return any time within four years following the beginning of the leave by filing a Return from Leave of Absence form. If the leave is involuntary, that is, required for academic or disciplinary reasons, the conditions for return will be stated. Forms are available at the HUB.
LEAVING THE UNIVERSITY
A student who decides to leave the University must meet with the Head of the School and complete a Withdrawal or Leave of Absence form located at the HUB. Withdrawal means leaving the University with no intention of returning. A withdrawal or leave of absence from the University at any time up to and including the last day of classes (excluding the final examination period), means that no grades will be recorded for the semester. Financial responsibility for the semester is dependent upon the date of and the reasons for filing the form. Questions about financial responsibility should be directed to the HUB.

REGISTRATION & TRANSCRIPTS
Located in Warner Hall, the HUB is comprised of Enrollment Services, University Registrar’s Office, Student Financial Aid, Student Accounts Office, Summer Studies, and Enrollment Systems. HUB services includes enrollment and financial aid, official transcripts, and enrollment verifications; student employment information; changing a meal plan; obtaining a student ID card; and a PAT transit imprint on Student IDs.

KEY OFFICES FOR HEALTH, WELLNESS & SAFETY

Counseling & Psychological Services
https://www.cmu.edu/counseling/
Counseling & Psychological Services (CaPS) affords the opportunity for students to talk privately about issues that are significant for them in a safe, confidential setting. Students sometimes feel uncertain about why they are feeling upset and perhaps confused about how to deal with those feelings. An initial consultation with a CaPS therapist will clarify options and provide a recommendation to the appropriate mental health resource at Carnegie Mellon or the larger Pittsburgh community. CaPS also provides workshops and group sessions specifically for graduate students on campus. CaPS services are provided at no cost. Appointments can be made in person or by telephone, 412-268-2922.

Health Services
www.cmu.edu/HealthServices/
University Health Services (UHS) is staffed by physicians, advanced practice clinicians and registered nurses who provide general medical care, allergy injections, first aid, gynecological care and contraception as well as on-site pharmaceuticals. The CMU Student Insurance Plan covers most visit fees to see the physicians and advanced practice clinicians & nurse visits. Fees for prescription medications, laboratory tests, diagnostic procedures and referral to the emergency room or specialists are the student’s responsibility and students should review the UHS website and their insurance plan for detailed information about the university health insurance requirement and fees.

UHS also has a registered dietician and health promotion specialists on staff to assist students in addressing nutrition, drug and alcohol and other healthy lifestyle issues. In addition to providing direct health care, UHS administers the Student Health Insurance Program. The Student Health Insurance plan offers a high level of coverage in a wide network of health care providers and hospitals. Appointments can be made by visiting UHS’s website, walk-in, or by telephone, 412-268-2157.

Semester (circle):  Fall  Spring  20____

All students in the School of Art’s MFA Program receive Graduate Assistant Scholarships for each semester in residence. Graduate assistantships are a required component of the MFA Program. They offer a variety of opportunities to develop teaching and other professional experience through working with a member of the art faculty or staff. Graduate Assistants provide valuable support for the School both inside and outside the classroom. Graduate assistantships can follow a teaching or research track. A teaching assistant is involved with the pedagogy of the classroom, including but not limited to paper/project assessment, critiques, and occasional lectures. Research assistants perform library, community, or site research for a faculty project or course. Any combination of tracks that results in professional or pedagogical development may be negotiated as a hybrid graduate assistantship.

Graduate Assistant Responsibilities
Graduate assistants are expected to take initiative to encourage quality educational experience for themselves. The specific job description for each graduate assistant is determined in agreement with the supervising instructor or staff member. Graduate assistant responsibilities may include any of the following duties:

- Attending classes taught by their supervisor
- Observing and participating in group and individual critiques
- Developing and explaining assignments
- Class prep including research, still-life set-up, AV equipment, technical demonstrations, and furniture
- Preparing studio demonstrations
- Collecting, organizing, preparing teaching materials, and presenting slides and other media
- Informal student advising
- Evaluating artwork, papers, and exams
- Making class presentations
- Monitoring facilities
- Assisting faculty in their artmaking and/or research
- Assisting with special projects: ___________________________
- Other (specify): ___________________________
Workload
Graduate assistants are expected to work an average of 8 hours per week, including time spent in the classroom.

Responsibilities of the Supervisor
The primary responsibilities of the supervising instructor or staff member are to communicate the specific job description to the graduate assistant, to endeavor to make the work of the graduate assistant a worthwhile learning experience, to integrate graduate assistantships with the Undergraduate Program, and to monitor the effectiveness of the assistantship. Graduate supervisors are expected to meet with and give feedback to Graduate Assistants at midterm and end-of-term.

Carnegie Mellon School of Art Studio Space Policy
(For assigned studio and classroom spaces)

The quality of the working and physical environment in the School of Art (SoA) at Carnegie Mellon is everyone’s responsibility. Communal studios/shops and classrooms, as well as the studio that has been designated as your workspace, are all part of the SoA physical community. What you do in your studio may affect not only your own health and safety, but also that of others. If you are aware of a safety issue in your studio, your communal workspaces or your building, or if you are unsure if a process or material that you want to use is safe, you should seek guidance from your professors, the SoA Technical Manager, or the Office of Environmental Health and Safety.

The intention of this agreement is for students, faculty and staff to work towards ensuring that studio conditions are acceptable for the individual student and the collective good of all. In addition to environmental concerns, this agreement also addresses some general rules of civility and safety.

In accepting a studio assignment you agree to the following terms and conditions, with the understanding that if these terms and conditions are breached or for other reasonable cause, the SoA may be forced to close your studio, terminate your studio privileges and/or restrict access to other SoA facilities.

• The studio shall be used only for educational purposes, and only by students in the SoA or by students taking a SoA course, unless by special permission from the Head of School, as per the course schedule published each semester.

• At the conclusion of the term, your assigned studio shall be left clean and in good condition, notwithstanding reasonable wear and tear.

• The studio will be maintained in a clean and orderly condition, consistent with its proper use. All designated fire corridors must be kept free of obstructions. Stairways, hallways and other common areas must be kept open and free of obstructions as well. Windows may not be blocked (except by appropriate shades or blinds). Defacement of public places (graffiti) is subject to disciplinary action.

• All paints, solvents, cements and chemicals must be kept in properly labeled containers appropriate to their use. All such materials, when not in use, must be stored in the provided safety cabinets or metal lockers. Whenever possible, non-toxic materials should be used. The student is advised to obtain the Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS) for any material used and to obtain and use personal safety equipment (goggles, gloves, respirators, etc.) when using toxic materials. Processes that create high levels of toxic fumes must not be used in the shared studios. No inks, paints, solvents or toxic chemicals can ever be used in or rinsed down the sinks or drains.
• Chemicals specifically prohibited by Environmental Health and Safety may not be used.

• Clay and plaster may only be used in designated sculpture areas; and residual dust must be contained for proper disposal.

• Trash or rags that contain or have come in contact with flammables must be disposed of in provided metal waste disposal containers.

• Open flames, torches, welding equipment, etc. can only be used in designated areas.

• Personal electrical appliances, such as portable heaters, hot plates and quartz lamps are not permitted, unless the Head of School, Associate Head or Technical Manager grants special permission. Extension cords must be heavy gauge. SoA representatives may confiscate any of the above items.

• No aerosol sprays may be used in interior spaces unless fume/ventilation hoods appropriate for the particular sprays are available, such as in the DH sculpture area. If spraying outdoors, protective materials should be laid down first to prevent overspray from defacing the work surfaces.

The following rules also apply for ALL School of Art (SoA) facilities:

• Food and drink are strictly prohibited from Art Studios or other areas where hazardous chemicals are present.

• Food and beverages should not be stored in refrigerators used to chill hazardous chemicals or in glassware that is also used for hazardous chemicals.

• Hazardous or inappropriate materials should not be stored with food or in eating areas. Food storage areas such as cabinets, refrigerators and freezers, must only contain items intended for human consumption. Hazardous chemicals, biological specimens or other materials with the potential to contaminate food or eating areas must be used or stored elsewhere.

• Smoking is not permitted in any SoA building at any time. We ask that all members of the SoA community help maintain the quality of our environment by maintaining a smoke-free environment. This is a health and safety issue.

• The use of alcoholic beverages at social events (such as art openings) requires a special permit, a "host" and security personnel (in some cases). Otherwise, it is prohibited.

• The use of illegal drugs in the SoA is prohibited.
• Doors leading to the outsides of buildings may not be propped open when staff and/or faculty are not present. Doing so constitutes a serious breach of security and safety - especially after hours.

In accepting the terms listed above, it is understood that the SoA is not responsible for the loss or theft of items left in the studio and it is also understood that officers of the University, College or School may at any time inspect the studio and any School of Art facility. In the event that unsafe conditions are found to exist, use of the studio shall immediately cease and not be resumed until the condition is remedied. Certain safety issues may require that the use of all studios in a suite of studios be suspended until conditions are remedied.

Equipment Care and Handling
☞ You are advised to read the manuals for the equipment you use if you are unfamiliar with its operation and functions.
☞ Allow yourself enough time to properly unpack, set up, adjust, configure and test equipment before beginning your project.
☞ Do not leave equipment unattended in an un-secure location.
☞ Do not expose equipment to moisture, extreme heat or extreme cold, sand, dirty or dusty environments.
☞ Notify the Lending Assistant of any problems you encounter while using the equipment.

PACKAGING
☞ Do not remove or damage the identification tags attached to equipment cases, or any labels on equipment or accessories.
☞ Cases with customizable foam are configured to hold specific equipment and accessories. Therefore,
☞ Note how the items are packaged and put them back in the same configuration.
☞ Do not place additional items in the cases.
☞ Do not make any alterations to the foam padding.

CORDS AND CABLES
☞ Note how cables are wound and secured with twist ties. Borrowers are expected to re-wind cables neatly and re-secure with the included twist-ties before returning them.
☞ Do not leave cables plugged into equipment when placing back in cases/bags. This may damage the cable and/or ports on the equipment.
☞ Do not tie cables in knots.
☞ Do not wrap cables around equipment, chargers, etc.
☞ If tape is used to secure cables/cords, all traces of the tape and adhesive residue must be removed before return.

CAMERAS
☞ Camera lenses are provided with UV filters to protect the lenses. Do not remove these filters.
☞ Keep the lens cap on the lens when not in use.
☞ Please format the SD card before returning. Use the format function in the camera's menu to format the card - deleting photos when the SD card is attached to a computer does not properly erase all data.
☞ Only change lenses in a clean, dust-free environment. Place the base cap on the unused lens immediately. Never touch the mirror, sensor, or other internal components of the camera.

LIGHTS
☞ Extend light stand legs fully to avoid tipping over.
☞ Tungsten lights generate intense heat. Keep them away from flammable materials.
☞ Do not leave lights on while unattended. This is a fire hazard.
☞ Do not move lights when they are turned on - this can cause the bulb filament to break.
☞ Tungsten lights are high-wattage. Do not overload electrical outlets with multiple lights - this may trip the circuit breaker.
☞ Allow lights to cool before placing back in carrying case.

VIDEO PROJECTORS
☞ Set up projectors on a flat, stable surface.
☞ Do not block airflow around the projector. This will cause overheating and will damage the projector.
☞ Power off projectors with the power button and wait until shutdown is complete (fan stops running) before unplugging.

TRIPODS
☞ Do not over-tighten the quick-release plates. This can damage the plate and/or the mounting thread on the item being attached.
☞ Make sure quick-release plate is attached to tripod before returning.
☞ Extend tripod legs fully to avoid tipping over.
☞ Do not exceed the tripod's rated weight capacity.

THINGS WITH KNOBS (Tripods, light stands, magic arms, etc.)
☞ Only unscrew knobs enough to adjust height / tilt / position / etc. Do not unscrew completely or remove knobs - this may result in the loss of washers, nuts, or other small parts necessary for the proper functioning of the item.
☞ Do not over-tighten knobs - this may damage the item.
